

25th AUGUST 2019

Community has been our theme for the past two months. We have looked at what being in community means and ways that we contribute to living in community. But community isn't our final destination – we haven't simply arrived at the end of our series thinking that we have got community all sorted and functioning well. There is still work and commitment and responsibilities for each of us to continue with to ensure that this community – our Corps- is as healthy as it can possibly be, that each of us are healthy disciples of Jesus.

Community within our Corps is also not our final destination. We are to be outward focused – missional. As disciples of Jesus, we are to live and speak Jesus – the gospel- not simply for our benefit but for the benefit of others – those who are not yet believers.

As a community of believers who know and have experienced the transforming love of Jesus in our own lives, we are called to be on mission with God in obedience to the Holy Spirit, demonstrating and declaring the gospel in order to make disciples.
