Jesus

27 OCTOBER 2019

In Luke 19:1-10 we read the story of the chief tax collector Zacchaeus, who promptly accepted Jesus' personal call to give meaning and direction to his life, even if that meant serious changes in his lifestyle.

Zacchaeus was the chief tax man of Jericho. This meant he was a collaborator with the Roman Empire. The Romans sold tax collector rights to the highest bidder. The tax man then exacted all he could from the people to cover cost and make a profit.

Tax men became a hated class. They were looked upon as both exploiters and traitors. Most loyal Jews did not befriend the tax man. In fact, children spat on the ground as the tax man walked by as a sign of rejection. Of all people Zacchaeus was a lonely man – an outcast.

When Jesus came to Jericho Zacchaeus was eager to see him. Perhaps he had heard stories of the respect and friendship Jesus offered to outcasts. Zacchaeus was so determined to catch a glimpse of Jesus that he, a small man, climbed a tree to see him pass by.

Jesus Christ came to save the lost, the lonely, the outcasts in the days of Zacchaeus and he still does today. He sees you in whatever tree you might be in today. He calls you by name and invites you to come and have a relationship with him. Will you accept his invitation?

She has been a long time member of our Corps family and it would be a great encouragement for her to receive a phone call or a visit from people who remember her.
