Can we help you? Prayer... a listening ear... want to get involved? Chat with us today or email or call during the week as we would love to help you in your journey of life and faith.

Self Denial Week 3: Georgia - Youth

In Georgia, after the death of his mother, Georgi speaks of the way The Salvation Army "stepped in at a very dark time of my life. They made me feel I was not alone. They became my family and my saving grace." In the face of high levels of unemployment and uncertainty, young people are especially vulnerable and often question their sense of worth and value.

The Salvation Army in Georgia is a generous community that seeks to share the love of Jesus with young people in the country's capital, Tbilisi. The after-school care centre is a safe and caring place where young people are tutored, supported and learn more about God and his love for them. In that place, these young people are given a sense of worth and community – that they are not alone in the world.

This time of Self Denial is a time for us to reflect on the way that God has blessed us in Jesus, and how we may reach out to be a blessing to others.

How great is the love the Father has lavished on us, that we should be called children of God ... If anyone has material possessions and sees a brother or sister in need but has no pity on them, how can the love of God be in that person?

1 JOHN 3:1, 17

NEWS RELEASE: London, April 2018

THE Salvation Army's world leader General André Cox is calling Salvationists and friends to pray for the escalating situation in Syria, and the resulting strain in international relations.

The General says: 'Commissioner Silvia and I would encourage Salvationists and other believers to be agents of peace and transformation.'

'We pray particularly for the people of Syria who are caught up in this terrible situation. May the international community never forget that its actions affect the lives of thousands of innocent people.'

'We call on politicians and leaders to seek out ways to dialogue and find non-violent solutions to world issues.'
